

Are you a technical school graduate in the Machine Technology field? Stafford Manufacturing Corp. in Wilmington, MA is looking for a technician to assist in a variety of roles including machining, quality control, and laser etching of products. The ideal candidate will be energetic and excited about learning under the direction of several of our experienced employees.

Stafford Manufacturing Corp., an ISO 9001-2015 certified company, has been a leading supplier of manufactured components to industry since 1975. You'll love our spirit of teamwork and convenient location. Just minutes from I-93 off route 125 in Wilmington, MA, Stafford has a friendly atmosphere and a group of professionals dedicated to providing top quality products and exceptional service to our distributor and OEM customers.

Required Skills

- Must be a technical school graduate from a program of Machine Technology or similar.

Benefits

- Full time position with competitive salary
- Health, Dental and Vision Insurance
- Company Paid Life Insurance
- Company Paid Long-Term Disability
- Company Paid Short-term Disability
- 401K Retirement Savings Account with company match
- Flexible Spending Plans for Medical Expenses and Dependent Care
- Paid Time Off and Holiday Pay

Why work for Stafford?

At Stafford, your efforts and their impact will be immediately visible. We've been around long enough to develop a strong reputation for dependability and product excellence, but we've never gotten large enough to require reels of red tape. Your good ideas will be allowed to blossom and you will never be lost in a crowd. Our key word is "Respect". Respect for ourselves, our customers, our vendors and our environment, as well as respect for profits.

Please contact sdoherty@staffordmfg.com for additional information

